

The Carolina Forum Presents

SHENGGEN FAN

ENDING HUNGER BY 2025

Introductory Remarks by Chancellor Carol L. Folt

October 23, 2015

12:15 p.m. - 1:30 p.m.

Nelson Mandela Auditorium
FedEx Global Education Center
301 Pittsboro St. | Chapel Hill, NC

Shenggen Fan will lead a public forum “Ending Hunger by 2025,” where he will comment on the current state of global food security, discuss challenges and suggest potential policy solutions. A discussion with Fan will then be moderated by Pam Jagger, associate professor of public policy and environment and ecology.

The event will include introductory remarks by Chancellor Carol L. Folt and Daniel Gitterman, Thomas Willis Lambeth Distinguished Chair in Public Policy.

The Carolina Forum aims “to bring to the campus of the oldest state university in the nation the best minds in the world.” Its mission is to educate and to engage students in a dialogue about key policy issues in the U.S. and around the globe.

A light reception will take place in the Florence and James Peacock Atrium following the forum.

SPONSORS: UNC College of Arts and Sciences, UNC Global, and the UNC Global Research Institute.

* Please note that parking is not available at the FedEx Global Education Center for this event.

ABOUT THE LECTURER:

Shenggen Fan has been director general of the International Food Policy

Research Institute since 2009. He joined the institute in 1995 as a research fellow, conducting extensive research on pro-poor development strategies in Africa, Asia, and the Middle East, leading IFPRI’s program on public investment in agriculture for several years.

Fan is the vice-chairman of the World Economic Forum’s Global Agenda Council on Food and Nutrition Security, where he served as chairman of the council from 2012 to 2014. In 2014, Fan received the Hunger Hero Award from the World Food Programme in recognition of his commitment to and leadership in fighting hunger worldwide.
